1: The Daily Toreador was originally named The Toreador, then in '66 changed to University Daily; then the two were later combined

2: The Rec center opened where it is now in 1980, built for $5.5million

3: Baseball was one of the spring sports, but it lasted for four years then got scrapped, and now it's back for good as of 1954

4: The original name for our football team was "The Matadors" however, because of an article calling the boys the "red raiders" it stuck and we went with it.
