

Average Annual Salary/Hourly Rate for Full-Time Employees

Of course, not all occupations are salaried. The survey also asked about occupations' average hourly wage for full-time hourly employees. The average hourly pay for full-time employees across occupations is also low, standing at $9.38. Although there is a great variance in gross annual salary and hourly wages across occupations for full-time employees in the region, the average yearly income does not appear to be that high, standing at $28,101.27.